

15 February 2010

20% jump in demand prompts MRWED move to Morayfield

Australia's largest trainer of trainers, MRWED Training and Assessment, has secured new headquarters in Morayfield on the back of a 20% jump in demand for its courses as businesses restart their investment in staff development and education.

MRWED is now located at 140 Morayfield Road in Morayfield. The new office features 247 sqm of functional spaces to support the client relations, resource development and learning support arms of the business. The new office also features a training room on site, which will be used to great affect for both internal and external training.

MRWED used to be based in Elimbah.

MRWED Founder and Principal Marc Ratcliffe said the move came as the award-winning company prepared to celebrate its 10th anniversary.

"After successfully upskilling almost 13,000 trainers across Australia and overseas since 2000, we are primed and ready for another successful year. With what seems like the worst of the global financial crisis over, we're preparing for an influx of demand from businesses looking to recommit to staff training," he said.

"Demand for our Diploma of Training and Assessment courses has also grown in the past 12 months, which is why we need bigger facilities. Our success has prompted us to relocate to a larger office to sustain our growth.

"Our new office in Morayfield offers an environment that equips us for the growth that we are expecting over the next few years. At full capacity, it would comfortably fit a team of 20 staff."

MRWED trains people - from CEOs and human resource managers through to frontline managers - on the art of engaging and training others.

In 2009, Mr Ratcliffe was named as one of the world's Top 10 Young Trainers of the Year by Training Magazine (USA). The award came after MRWED was named as one of the Top 10 places to work in Australia by BRW magazine.

Headquartered in South East Queensland, MRWED Training and Assessment is a private Australian Registered Training Organisation (RTO) specialising in trainer training. Established in the year 2000, MRWED has since trained more than 12,000 Australians in training and assessor qualifications.

ENDS. For more information contact:
Matthew Hart / Liz Christiansen, BBS, 07 3221 6711