Marc Ratcliffe Workplace Education and Development

MRWED COMMITTED TO NEWCASTLE

APRIL 27, 2007: Marc Ratcliffe Workplace Education and Development opened its Newcastle MRWED TAA (Training and Assessment Centre) in January of this year. Since 2004 MRWED has been committed to providing the people of Newcastle and surrounding areas access to one of Australia's leading providers of Training and Assessment.

MRWED founder Marc Ratcliffe started MRWED in 2000 believing that training courses needed to be flexible to individuals needs and lifestyle. MRWED now boasts one of Australia's best value for money Certificate IV in Training and Assessment Courses in Australia.

Over the past seven years MRWED's success has allowed it to grow and expand to include Training and Assessment Centres in five major Australian cities including Adelaide, Brisbane, Melbourne and Sydney.

"After more than seven years I am proud to establish my fifth TAA Centre in the vibrant city of Newcastle. Over the past four years enrolments have been strong here, and I felt it was time to demonstrate my commitment by setting up a dedicated training centre right here in Newcastle" said Mr Ratcliffe.

The aim of MRWED is to provide training and assessment programs that are superior in quality, flexible in delivery and competitive in price while utilising a team of highly qualified and experienced trainers and assessors to ensure that students are exposed to a variety of training styles and have the benefit of the trainers' combined wealth of experience. All MRWED students receive plenty of resources including books of readings and CD-ROM's to support their learning.

"Whether you are a first time trainer, or someone wanting to upgrade their skills we have a course for you. The number one feedback I always seem to get is that students never realised just how much fun they can have while learning" says Mr Ratcliffe.

MRWED training courses are conducted in Newcastle from the MRWED TAA Centre located at the "Commercial Centre" Market Square, Hunter Street Mall. For more information and course dates telephone 1800 287 246 or visit the website at www.mrwed.com.au
