

Managing training across different generations

Overview of the topic:

Managing an increasingly diverse learning group is one of the major issues facing trainers and assessors today. The way people learn has changed a lot in the last 50 years and in this interactive session, participants will obtain some fresh insights into how other generations learn and what can be done to enhance the learning experience for people of all ages. This webinar will provide specific guidance on the approaches, strategies and techniques that are best suited to each generation and will also explore practical ways that work for everyone.

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this workshop, participants will have the knowledge and skills to:

- Outline the different generations found in the classroom
- Identify strategies and techniques that support training across different generations
- Plan training and assessment activities that best suit each generation
- Explore practical things that work for everyone.

Who should attend?

- Teachers, Trainers and Assessors
- Head of Departments
- Instructional Designers
- VET Consultants

All webinar registrants will receive a copy of the slides, a link to the webinar recording, an electronic statement of attendance and soft copies of any relevant additional resources.
